WATER WORKS.

The destruction by fire on New Year's morning of the old Fisher tavern right in the heart of the city and the narrow escape of the whole business part of the city, west of Clover Creek, is a warning stronger than any words, of the necessity for water works and a fire system.

Usually a high wind adds to the danger from fire, but it proved our salvation in this instance. It blew the flames away from and saved Adkins's livery stable. If the stable had gone, nothing could have saved the Ferrigo dwelling and grocery store and Wm. & Charles's shops. These would have burned the Breckenridge Bank and Fisher's drug store and hall, and where the fire would have stopped, no man can tell. The solid character of the bank building and Fisher's drug store, being metal roofed brick buildings with iron floors, enabled them to resist the heat sufficiently for the bucket brigade to save them.

All this was plain to every observer. By the merest chance, a general conflagration destroying property amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars, was averted.

How easy the fire in the old tavern building could have been damped down, and confined with little, if any, danger to surrounding property, if a few streams of water could have had play on it. And how absolutely certain it is, if it had been any other building on Wall street that was burning, that it could not have been checked in its mad career.

No arguments are needed. Opposition to a system of water works is only pig-headedness.

After we are all burned out, then we will have them. Such is the wisdom usually displayed by municipal government.

Let the city council take steps to ascertain the cost of a good system. We have competent men in our midst to do this work. Then go to the work in a business way and adopt the best means to provide the water works. All talk about not being able to do it, if we are able to have the property, we are able to protect it.

We need not listen to every adventurer who comes along and proposes to do the work taking all the advantages to himself. There is a time and business way to do things. Find out what we want and the practical way to get it.

We have the river, and an elevation in the city. We have the water in abundance and the pressure to throw it over the highest buildings. Let us quit cackling like geese as we have been doing. We want water sprayed, not the idle breath of a pack of ignorant and stupid fellows. None of us know what we are talking about and never will know till we take the proper steps to learn something. The council should not delay in inaugurating "a campaign of education."

SEATOR John G. Carlisle, referring to the Farmers' Alliance says. The Alliance "is the legitimate child of the Republican party. It is the offspring of the Republican tariff idea that the Government should take care of all business enterprises that can not or will not take care of themselves. This Government is not an economic institution, nor does it pretend to remedy business failures. Although some farmers have for years received low prices for their products, they are far better off than their fathers were. I was born and brought up on a farm and until I was nineteen I worked on a farm in summer and went to school in the winter. During my boyhood I never saw a buggy or pleasure carriage in the country. The farm products were carried to market on wagons drawn by oxen and my father used to haul his wheat and tobacco twenty-one miles to market in this way. It took him two days and nights for every load. Now many farmers' sons and daughters in Kentucky have their own horses and buggies or carriages and at any meetings of Kentucky farmers you will see great numbers of handsome turnouts.

The election contests in New York reveal the fact that even the new secret ballot may be used fraudulently. There are many ways in which the ballot can be marked by a person other than the voter. They may be marked so as to be counted for the party opposed to the voter's principles or marked so they are not counted at all, the offending officer not being endangered in either instance. It is now suggested that a bi-partisan board be appointed to examine tickets after they have passed through the hands of the Clerk. Perhaps the old way was the best after all.

The daily accounts published in the newspapers of railroad accidents and the swiftness of so many human lives to them, has now ceased to startle the average reader. A few years ago it was otherwise, but now to take up a daily paper and find that the most prominent bit of news given is not an account of a railroad smash up is something phenomenal. There to is the American Congress sitting at Washington and State Legislatures assembling all around us and not once do they call for an investigation into the careless management of railroads.

This is the fifth time Mr. James E. Stone has been elected Assistant Clerk of the Legislature. Mr. Stone has always acquitted himself with the greatest credit, and is regarded as the best reading clerk in Kentucky.

The Republicans of Paducah have had a hard time settling down on a Postmaster. Capt. Ed. Farley has finally been appointed.

Every now and then a ruffian gets in his work on a town marshal. The latest victim was Marshal Taylor Vise, of Sharpsburg, who was stabbed to death by a negro.

It is said that President Harrison is considering the name of Judge William Lindsay, of Frankfort, in connection with the vacancy on the Interstate Commerce Commission.

On the thirty-fourth ballot the Hon. W. M. Moore, of Harrison county, was nominated by the Democratic caucus for Speaker of the House. Green R. Keller was nominated for clerk and James E. Stone for assistant clerk. John Stuart Enrolling clerk, Robert Tyler sergeant at arms and J. C. McWhorter doorkeeper. The next thing will be the appointment of committees, and then the Kentucky Legislature will get down to business.

It is nonsense for newspapers to begin discussing Gen. Gross's ability to represent the Fourth district in Congress as if he had had no political experience and was just making his debut. There are few men in the district who have given more attention to politics within the past ten years than Gen. Gross, and he is certainly as quick to see a need and devise a means as any man, as his record will show. Besides his knowledge of politics he has a good knowledge of men and will make him a power in the race for Congress.

The Leap Year Hop.

One of the most fashionable and brilliant events that has occurred in this city for a long time was the Leap Year hop given in Fisher's Hall last Friday night. It was the long talked of event of the season, and as a matter of course it drew toward it a degree of pleasure by both young and old. When the young ladies take a hand no such work as fall is known to them. It is not written in their vocabulary. Snow, rain and sleet does not in the least interfere with their plans or prevent them from carrying to a successful issue whatever they have in hand.

It snowed, it rained, it poured, but the young ladies were there in all their beauty and dazzling loveliness. There were about two, dressed in the height of fashion making the occasion a splendid success. The most pleasing event of one and that will not soon die out in the memory of those present. Everything was provided to make the occasion a splendid success, which it was. The hall was handsomely decorated, the Brown Bros., furnished the music and none can furnish better, dandy printed programmes and order of dance with their cut and pencil, a splendid luncheon served in the most exquisite taste, in fact nothing could have been added to more effectively enhance the pleasure and joy of the light hearts and winning faces of those present.

Indeed, 'tis true, as an old timer remarked it was the nicest affair that ever took place in Cloverport.

The costumes worn by the ladies were superbly elegant and in the latest styles and fashions. The gentlemen too, as we have before remarked, were as dressed in the height of fashion, and as a young lady said looked perfectly lovely in their swallow tails, low cut vests and patent leather pumps.

The following were the costumes:
Miss Lila Adams, Lewistown, black lace pink trimmings.
Miss Lila Richardson, Louisville, red silk.

Miss Mamie Duncan, Hawesville, pink silk trimmed with ostrich feathers.
Miss Lucile Sterrett, Hawesville, cream and blue.

Miss Eva Young, Morgantown, red silk, jet trimmings.
Miss Rose Crittenden, Frankfort, cream silk velvet trimmings.

Miss Norris, Louisville, street costume.
Miss Kate Ogelsby, street costume.
Miss Fita Hall, crepe de chene.

Miss Lila Hall, black head not over yellow silk.
Miss Foss, blue clains.
Miss Kate Boyd, white lace over blue silk.

Miss Lullia Newsum, princess dress of pink albatross and chiffon.
Miss Pearl Miller, blue silk.
Miss Minnie Murray, cream albatross.

Miss Lafayette Laiffest, cream china silk.
Miss Lola Owen, pink china silk.
Miss Aleine Murray, cream silk.

Miss Aleine Murray, pink crepe de chene.
Miss Maggie Bower, white gauze over blue silk.
Miss Lizzie Skillman, figured china silk, chiffon trimmings.

The gentlemen present were Messrs. Lon. Moremen, Brandenburg, Jack H. Young, Morgan, J. C. Hubbard, James On, Greenville Skillman, Jesse Owen, Skillman, Walter Smart, Chas. Moorman Will Rousner, Fred Frazer, Fred Balage, James Fisher, John Warfield, Frank Boyd, Walter Straffer, Leonard Oels and Hal Murray.

Mr. Eli Pile and Miss Florence Pierce were married at the bride's residence near this place Thursday week, Rev. L. C. Campbell officiating. The young couple left immediately for Texas their future home.

The Hardinsburg matter did not reach the paper in time for publication last Tuesday, because the letter went to Louisville instead of going direct to Cloverport. Hereafter our matter will have to be mailed on Monday morning.

Most every laborer down the branch came up here last Thursday. There were about a hundred of them and a number of farmers in the bunch. They had plenty of money and dropped several hundred dollars among our merchants. Advertising pays.

The Christmas tree given at the Baptist church was a success in every particular. The presents were numerous and but few children left the house without something. School Superintendent James Miller played the part of Santa Claus to the satisfaction of everybody.

Every citizen should have a good word to say for his town at the beginning of this New Year. Hardinsburg is a good point for business, and it is strange you always hear some fellow running her out as a dead town. Whenever there's any trade we come in for our share and the people know it. What's the sense then in the chronic kickers to be always kicking. Go to work and give us a rest.

The following marriage licenses were issued for December: Thomas J. Hendrick to George A. Kennedy, Bernard Hinsburg to Letitia Evans, Villous H. Bradley, Charles Spencer to Della Dugan, James N. Sapp to Annie McDugan, Calvin Elder to Artie N. Stone, Daniel O'Connell to Jennie E. Adkins, Fred to Mary E. Claycomb, George T. McCoy to Sarah E. Haynes, Wm. M. Hager to Margie West, Miles Drane to Salena Drane, Ralph Nelson to Mary E. Dougherty.

THE ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE HARDINSBURG FISH AND GAME CLUB.

The most elegant social event here of the season was the banquet given at Board's Hotel last Friday evening, by the members of the Hardinsburg Fish and Game Club. About sixty invitations were sent out, and covers were laid in the spacious dining hall for the hotel for that number of guests, if not more. The supper was a substantial repast, the tables being covered with most everything that was tempting and rare to the appetite of the most fastidious. One attractive feature were the dishes of quality. The club in anticipation of the affair had killed eighty or a hundred.

The members of the club presided and waited upon the guests as they arrived at the hotel, supper began at 8 o'clock and lasted until 10. The dining room was appropriately decorated for the occasion, the hunting garb and outfits of members being placed in different parts of the room. These with a stack of arms placed at a side entrance gave a decidedly pleasing effect to the surroundings. The tables were nicely arranged and over the center of the room was suspended in gilt the initial letters of the club, H. F. and G. C. The whole effect was very pleasing and contrasted admirably with the surroundings of the occasion. When the guests were all seated, the President of the club, Mr. Morris Eckridge, in response to the toast, The Hardinsburg Fish and Game Club, gave a brief history of the organization, and detailed in a humorous vein some of the exploits of its members in the field with dog and gun. The next speaker was Dr. H. C. Mosely, who in a response to the toast, "Hardinsburg Prosperity," fittingly and eloquently spoke of the occasion and its surroundings. Remarks were made by other gentlemen present to the edification and delectation of the whole company.

The Hardinsburg Fish and Game Club has but fairly commenced its career, but it can be truthfully said that at the first reception given by them on their first annual reunion, there was displayed a kind of elegance and genuine hospitality seldom witnessed in a place of this size. The members of the club were all present and as follows: Morris Eckridge, H. H. Severs, C. L. Beard, P. M. Beard, C. E. Haswell, W. F. Hook, T. J. Hook, J. B. Cox, Clair Beard and T. A. McGill, Jr. The guests present were as follows: P. F. Board, Dr. N. C. Mosely, Morris Eckridge and wife, C. L. Beard and wife, C. E. Haswell and wife, Clayton Beard, J. E. Wright and wife, Louisville; V. G. Barbage and wife, H. O. Phelps and wife, Louisville; T. H. Withers, Misses Lizzie and Katie Eckridge, J. E. Monarch and wife, Miss Mary Board, Miss Eva Hensley, Mr. M. H. Board, G. F. Miller and wife, Miss Blanche, J. D. Decker and wife, Jesse Eckridge, Miss Mary Bower, Miss Maggie Guthrie, Ed. Beard, Frank Beard, Mrs. Jesse Whitworth, Miss Lydia and Mattie Weston, H. C. Beard and wife, Miss Ella Smith, Miss Mamie Smith, Frank Haswell and wife, Amos Board, Judge N. McCall, Merce, Miss Tilda Mercer, P. Morris Board, Miss Ellen Foster, Will Lennin and Miss Nora Smith.

What is Good Baking Powder.

It is a well known fact that carbonate of ammonia is used by bakers in the preparation of the finest and most wholesome bread and cake, and has been from time immemorial. It is among the oldest and at the same time most healthful constituents of baking powders. It is all evolved in gas by the heat of the oven, and leaves no trace of itself in the food, and it is this that gives it its great value as a leavening agent in the opinions of the physicians. New York Journal.

It is an established fact that DeWitt's Little Ear Riser has an enormous sale, and why? Simply because they are pleasant in taking, happy in results. A pill for the multitude.—Sold by Short & Haynes.

The third semi-annual statement of the Bank of Hardinsburg, Hardinsburg, is published in this issue. The affairs of this institution show a healthy condition and a prosperous business for the past six months. For a young bank the statement makes an admirable showing and it will be read by its stockholders and friends with pleasure. We congratulate the management and especially the clever young man at the head of the institution, Mr. M. H. Beard, cashier, on his wise and successful administration. The Bank of Hardinsburg, although young in years, will as surely manage and be building up a business and a name that places it in the front ranks of the financial institutions of the country.

The semi-annual statement of the Breckenridge Bank, this city, appears in another column and makes a very creditable showing for this old and reliable institution. A 4 per cent. semi-annual dividend is declared and a handsome sum is added to the surplus fund. The statement shows and increase of business and profits over the last six months with abundant resources. Wise and judicious management has been the rule of this bank from its inception, and the consequence is, there is not a more solid institution, both in the city and the state, capable of the large cities, with the perfect system than is found in the conduct of its business which is also a credit to its management.

A New Year's Fire.
The old Fisher building on the corner of Wall and Elm streets was burned down last night. The fire started in an old frame building and has been used for several years as a tenement house. The cause of the fire was a defective flue which ran out from the east end of the building, the sparks from which fell on the roof and set it on fire. When the fire was discovered the greater portion of the roof was in a blaze and all efforts to extinguish it were fruitless. A heavy wind was blowing from the south and it was thought for a while that Fisher's drug store and the Breckenridge Bank building would surely go with it. The only thing that saved them was the metal roofs and iron fronts. As it was caught fire in several places and it was with the greatest care and watchfulness that they were saved.
Bowerman and Hamblen's large building on the north-west corner, was also in great danger and great efforts were entertained for its safety. A perfect shower of sparks were falling all over it and but for its iron roof and brick walls nothing could have saved it.
The new building was also exposed, but not so much as the other buildings, the wind blowing in a favorable direction for it. It was heated pretty hot though, and along with its neighbors pulled through all right.
The main business portion of the town made a very narrow escape from total destruction and every body is thankful that it was so. If the fire had broken out in any of the buildings near by nothing could have saved the town.

The Fisher house was on old building and of not much value only for rental. The loss on the building is estimated at about $1000, no insurance. It was the property of the James Miller estate, Dr. L. L. Newsum agent.
The following families occupied the house at the time of the fire, none of whom lost much except Mr. G. W. Bowerman, who lost everything he had in the way of clothing and household goods: W. R. Emory, Geo. and D. V. Wilson, G. W. Bishop, John Pheland, Matt. Lockard and the Singer Sewing Machine Co.

NOTES.
The holiday week was celebrated by the young folks of this social little city by two grand balls in the Opera House. The first was on Wednesday night, music by Rosenstott's—or some such a name as that—band. The second Saturday night music by Schwenstien's celebrated orchestra. Both entertainments were attended by the elite of the city and vicinity together with many visitors from elsewhere.
The only disturbance in town during the Christmas holidays was caused by George Warman from Breckenridge county, who came into town, got drunk and was spilling for a fight, when he tackled John Miller and got it. He was arrested, tried, and sentenced to twenty days in jail, but after remaining in jail for two or three days the judge suspended the sentence and let him go home, where he should remain, if he can't be have himself when he gets out.

The new classes in Prof. Frank McAllister's school will be opened the 18th, inst. and Mrs. E. F. Willett, whose school will not be out, will be his assistant. Why is it that this city is so arranged against itself in regard to school matters? If we had the whole city in one district, with a nice grand school over the present system. This is something that should receive the serious thought of every citizen that has children to send to school.
Mr. Marv Shewsbury and Mrs. Ada Sanders, of this vicinity, eloped to Louisville last Thursday, the 31st ult.

The women were out in full force. Everybody in the West End thought it was the Navy building.
Every glass in the front of the Bank is broken save one.
This is the second narrow escape Cloverport has made from a big fire.
Dr. Watkins' office made a narrow escape. It was on fire several times.
Tom Watkins stood guard on the roof of Bowerman & Hamblen's store home.
A quilt in the room over the Bank formerly occupied by Eli Simons, caught fire from the sparks.
The window frames in Bowerman & Hamblen's frontage fire from the sparks but were promptly put out.
Some rubbish and old boxes in front of Payne & Co's store caught fire and created a panic in that direction.
Several places of glass in Fisher's drug store were broken out by the heat. It took good work to keep out the sparks from his store.
The warehouse belonging to Bowerman & Hamblen on the river was a fire and water saved the building.
John Carson, Geo. Jordan, Jimmy Skilman, Frank Carlyle, Oliver Skilman, John Morris, Alvin Mattingly, Fred. Frazer, Wick DeHaven, O. Mattingly and Sam Conard were among the faithful workers.

Mr. Mike Lydian, Irvington, was in the city Friday and Saturday the guest of Judge Lewis.

Traveling like the gripe, was an epidemic here last week.
Judge J. W. Lewis, this city, sick.
Hugh Ditto came down Sunday to see the folks at home and his visiting sister.
Squire Frank Ditto is sick in Louisville at David Fairleigh's, his son-in-law.
Mr. J. A. McChesne has been sick for several days and is not yet able to be out.

Jailer H. H. Harrington is sick with a combination of a gripe and rheumatism in this case was not at all necessary as both the contracting parties have long been of a married age and as far as anybody else cared they could have married long ago if they had wanted to, but they just wanted to do it as much like young people as possible, so they concluded to skip out and surprise somebody. The County Court Clerk issued marriage license to the following persons in the month of December: F. C. Chism to Miss Ida Thompson, James H. Ross to Mrs. Mariah Dooley, Thomas Williams to Miss Minnie Ella Hawkins, Joseph Blake to Miss Lizzie Small, D. M. Smith to Mattie B. Darnall, Jno. L. Philpott to Miss Fannie L. Thompson, F. E. Siles to Miss Vick Graham, William F. Bryant to Miss Hannah Hasher, D. S. Henry to Miss Maggie H. Carrio, Frank Lewis to Miss Sule Brown, Jas. E. Ferguson to Miss Nancy G. Board, Douglas Groves to Miss Mattie Powell, Wm. A. Sells to Miss Adeline Adkinson. The total number of marriage license issued in the year 1891 were seventy-seven.

A prospective Heiress Elopes to Jeffersonville and is Married.
Brandenburg, Ky., Jan. 4, 1892.—E. W. Edmons and Miss Minnie Teboe eloped from this city last Thursday the 31st ult. to Jeffersonville, Ind., the famous Gretchen Grove for Kentucky's loveliest children, and were married. Miss Teboe or Mrs. Edmons, rather, is a pretty sixteen year old daughter of John Teboe, the marble-cutter, who two weeks ago received notice that he had fallen heir to $105,000 in France by the death of his grand-father. It is also reported now that Miss Teboe, or Mrs. Edmons, is an individual heiress to the amount of $100,000 by the will of her grand-mother who died in Lexington last week, while her share of the Fisher estate has not yet been figured out.

While there can be nothing positively said about Edmons, he is a poor boy and not particularly noted for shiftness, and it was the opinion of the Teboes that the place Minnie had chosen to deliver her produce, was not the best market for ducks in the country, hence the necessity of an elopement.
It seems that the opinion of the Edmons family toward the match was no more flattering than that of the Teboes, and instead of the happy couple being received with open arms and forgiveness, on their return, the doors of both homes have been closed against them, and they have been dependent upon the charity of neighbors for board and lodging since the day of their nuptial bliss. But all the same Edmons is in time for part of the "swag" and besides, fortune or no fortune, he is still, an object of much envy, for there are scores of young men in this vicinity that would willingly be the husband of the pretty little French girl, though she were penniless.
